

Relax and Untwine

Want to keep the creativity flowing? The libraries have great resources for hosting a craft night or picking up a new hobby!

Zines can now be borrowed from the library! Located on the first floor next to the reference desk, zines are a great inspiration for a craft night.

There's tons of inspiration hiding in the stacks. The call number 736.98 is for paper crafts, such as karakuri, paper jewelry, and papercutting. Jewelry making is in 739.27 and knitting is in 746.43. There's plenty of ideas waiting for you!

Did you know the libraries have an extensive collection of pop-up and artist books? Stop by the reference desk to start exploring the collection and get ideas for a new crafty challenge!

A Novel Idea

Did you know we have an entire section of the Brooklyn library dedicated to fiction? It's located on the 1st floor next to the elevator. You can check out novels such as:

Our growing collection of graphic novels can be found in the West Reading Room on the 2nd floor.

If you're looking to keep track of books you've read and want to read, see what your friends are reading, and find new recommendations, our librarians love:

Game Night

Interested in learning a new TTRPG or immersive game? Check out the 793.93 call number in the 2nd floor stacks: you'll find rulebooks for D&D 5e, the Fate system, Pokémon, and more.

Feel like building a campaign or game from scratch? That same 793.93 call number will provide world-building guidebooks. Books about game design can be found in the 794.81 call number.

And if you're just looking for a group of people to play games with, join the Pratt Gaming Club, Pratt Tabletop Gaming Club, or another group through pratt.campuslabs.com.

Grab the Popcorn

Seriously. We have more than books.

The Visual and Multimedia Resources (VMR) center has an extensive DVD and VHS collection, including recent award winners—which students can borrow!

The libraries also offer a variety of streaming services, including Kanopy and Ubuweb. These can be found through the Databases page on the library website.

Want to have home theater set-up in your dorm room? The VMR also offers equipment loans: take out a projector and speakers, and have a DIY movie night.

You can also watch movies right in the library in one of the many screening rooms in the VMR center on the lower level.
